Board Sees Construction Completed

Behind every organization there must be some type of governing and directing board. At Liberty Union High School, the Board of Trustees filled this role.

Elected by the people of the community, the Board's responsibilities included giving final approval in hiring new personnel, expanding the curriculum and maintaining a high academic standard at Liberty. Overseeing construction plans for new gymnasium facilities and proposing tax bonds to cover financial needs for this project were other necessary tasks handled by Liberty's Board of Trustees.

Meeting on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, the Board made decisions which affected the future as well as the present of Liberty Union High School.

Surrounded by sights and sounds of construction, students stop before the new gym facility to chat. The gym and exercise room were approved by the board of trustees in order to meet the physical requirements of the Liberty High School students.

Boulding Examines Old, New Courses

With the completion of the addition to the boys' gymnasium some of Superintendent Wayne Boulding's responsibilities were fulfilled. But others had only begun, and continued until the end of the year.

Last year Mr. Boulding examined new and old courses to determine their capacity for helping students prepare for the future.

New faculty members were selected and interviewed by Mr. Boulding. He acted as spokesman before the Board of Trustees concerning matters of salary and problems arising from school. Those were a few of the ways in which he helped to pave the way for each student. Thus he made it a little easier for them to be free to learn what they needed most to insure their future.

Administrators Aid Students' Learning

With a huge activity calendar behind his head, Principal Lou Bronzen attended to the school. Without this ever handy calendar, much confusion would have arisen concerning activity dates.

All cuts, absences and tardies had to be checked, and kept busy doing so was Vice Principal Gerald Clayburn. Along with these duties, Mr. Clayburn also had the responsibility of handling student discipline.

Problem with classes or maybe a personal problem? Vice Principal and Head Counselor, Vernon Noble, was there at all times to lend a helping hand.

These three men assisted Mr. Boulding in keeping Liberty headed on the right road towards better education.

Counselors Provide For Goal Planning

Many counselors had, as their goal, the joy of assisting students in becoming the most effective people they are capable of being. Counselors helped students to understand the world in which they live, and to find a place of personal satisfaction in the world of work.

Head counselor, Mr. Vernon Noble and his staff of counselors, Mr. David Kirby, Mr. Leonard Lucio, Mr. Henry Raming and Miss Julia Arce, were available to the students to help them benefit from their school curriculum and activities.

In planning their future, students made decisions on the basis of the available information about vocations and post-high school education.

Counselors are for a purpose, which is, to open new doors of knowledge. New counselor Miss Julia Arce keeps this in mind as she programs for newly enrolled Liberty students.

Faculty Shares Varied Interests

In addition to regular class hours, teachers donated much of their spare time to further building of students' personalities, minds and bodies.

While in the classroom, students may have felt reserved towards a teacher, but being able to mix socially with him helped to clear the air and provide an atmosphere in which students and faculty could experience mutual friendships.

Shining the light on another angle, Liberty unraveled varied interests of the teachers. These ranged from music to photography and included fishing, boating, chess and even the art of judo.

Help! During final week when teachers must turn in their grades lunch time becomes a hurried affair. Often times, a cup of coffee instead of a hot lunch must serve the purpose.

Mixing business with pleasure, Pep Club adviser, Mr. Ellerie Von Schopp stops to talk with homecoming queen Jane Boulding and her attendant Paulette Billingsley.

Library Meets Challenges Of Students

Each time a student walks through the doors of the library, they are surrounded by a world of knowledge. To quote librarian Walter Sarafanowich, "The minds and souls of students are like sponges they absorb everything and are never satisfied." This was the reason that he and his staff worked to keep the library up to date with books, newspapers, films, magazines, and audio-visual materials.

Joining the library staff as assistant librarian last spring, Mrs. Katherine Sorenson began her duties of helping students and teacher.

Spanish Students Use Language Lab

From within the confines of language classes, emerged French and Spanish natives, in the form of Liberty students; fluent in the customs and cultures of these countries.

Spanish I and II students received training in basic language structure and pronunciation. Classes furthered their language knowledge through audio-lingual equipment.

Again French students were offered a study of the language through use of filmstrips and tapes. A French III class was added which employed the use of new grammar workbooks.

In Mr. James Alves; Spanish Class, supplied with ear phones, the knowledge of books and a good teacher, Dana Lopez, David Hoyle and Kathy Kanagaki build up their perception of the Spanish language.

Mr. James Alves instructs Dennis Henderson on the use of the audio-lingual. Utilization of earphones, tapes and books assist pupils to further their industrialization of Spanish.

Classical Novels Emphasized In English

Working to master their own language, students of Liberty utilized basic grammatical structure in dramatizing novels, presenting speeches and editing publications.

World Literature pupils strove to understand the philosophy of writers of ages past and familiarize themselves with classical literature. Seniors emphasized grammar in relation to college English courses.

Juniors studied contemporary novels and early

American literature. The underclassmen expressed themselves in essays and short stories with the aid of the knowledge gained in basic skills.

Practical usage of the language was made through drama and speech courses as well as journalism and annual staff classes.

Special Ed. Department Adds Mr. Frary

Because some students had left the regular scholastic program or were in need of special assistance or emphasis on particular subjects a Special Education Program was offered.

One part of this being a Work Study Program which was a socially, occupationally oriented curriculum that offered the student work experience. This program was designed to prepare the pupil with a job skill at which he would be able to work after graduation. It also enabled the student to develop and progress in the field of his choice and interest.

Continuation classes were taught by Mr. Robert Frary who was new to Liberty this year.

Two new additions were made to the mathematics teaching staff. Mr. Elias Hernandez and Mr. Gerald Crawford both endeavored to help students learn accuracy in mathematics.

General math gave students an opportunity to further their education in basic math; while geometry required students to consider reasons for mathematical statements.

Algebra I students learned the relationship of numbers; and Algebra II and Trig Analysis gave students the opportunity to further investigate number relations.

Experiments Help To Discover Ideas

As the decade passes, more and more discoveries and explorations are made in the field of science. In order to understand these discoveries, students enrolled in one of the four courses offered this year.

General and advanced science students were reacquainted with the concepts of science and introduced to new ideas.

Biology gave students the opportunity to understand the physical characteristics of living organisms.

Chemistry students were concerned with accuracy in observations and calculations.

For those interested in continuing their education in the physical world, physics were offered.

Ag. Department Purchases Equipment

With a big emphasis on farming in the Brentwood area, students, under the direction of Mr. Gary Lewis and the new teacher, Mr. Tom Stammer, were actually engaged in raising crops and livestock.

Besides the school farm, six acres were acquired and used for the planting of oats and barley-hay by the Senior Ag. Business and Junior Plant Science students. Later, they were able to purchase and custom mix their own grains, by using the Chapter Feed Co-op. The six acres served a dual purpose in that they were used for practicing with tractors and other equipment.

This summer, ag. students looked forward to their participation in the county fairs of Antioch, Pleasanton and Stockton.

Students Create Functional Art Pieces

For the fourth year in a row Liberty art students captured first place and over half the art awards at the Contra Costa County Fair. Jeannette Novarina won the blue ribbon with her decorative wall hanging.

Over the Christmas holidays, Mr. Bill Peters' art students competed for cash awards by decorating the communities' store windows, while Mr. Arthur Gonzales's craft students exhibited hooked rugs at the Bank of America and the Bank of Agriculture and Commerce.

During spring, the advanced art students did the sets for the annual swim show and also the school play. Advanced crafts class tried their hand at the lost wax technique for jewelry and constructed a large mosaic made from natural materials.

Mr. Ken Forlow's Mechanical Drawing and Architectural Drafting students did drawings, plans, and house models. They joined art students in displaying their projects in May at the Seventh Annual Applied Arts Show.

Liberty's Shops

Mold Craftsmen

This year with the aid of a new wood shop teacher, Mr. Ken Harris, students learned how to convert tall timber into ready-to-use furniture.

During the year many students entered shows and won awards for their creations.

Just next door, students learned to pour steaming molten aluminum into a sand mold creating many unusual things.

Those who enrolled in Auto Shop learned that the function of an automobile was more complicated than they thought. But under the direction of Mr. Richard Arch students soon learned to turn a knocking engine into a "purring kitten". These shop students are tomorrows craftsmen.

Driver's Training Both Fun, Work

Drivers education classes can be applied to every day living. Basic knowledge was gained through classroom study and discussion while practical application was learned in actual behind-the-wheel driving.

This year students learned to drive in several different situations, from city to levee driving. Students learned that the functions of a car are not as easy as they thought; checking the oil and water and learning to change a tire were just a few of the things they had to learn.

This knowledge and practice acquired will help guide them to be safer and more alert drivers.

Business Depart. Offers Experience

Typing, shorthand, and clerical office were only a few of the courses which were offered to prospective secretaries, accountants and sales managers in business classes.

To help them in their future vocation such equipment as typewriters, dictaphones, calculators, mimeograph machines and many others were used in order to acquaint the students with actual equipment which they might someday use.

In order for students to better themselves and strive for higher goals teachers hand out awards for the highest scores in business classes at the annual Senior Scholarship Assembly in May.

Home Ec. Classes Study For Future

Construction of floor plans for future homes, courses in child care, and learning skills of knitting, prepared girls for the role of home-makers. From basic foods, they advanced their skill at preparing difficult main dishes and desserts.

Clothing students, with the help of Mrs. Gayle Krumland, Mrs. Jeannie Glenn, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Carpenter, perfected sewing skills. Students progressed from simple garments to sty-formals. Spring opened the doors to a fashion show sponsored by the girls who proudly model garments they had sewn during the past year.

Girls To Enjoy Newest Facility

New locker room and shower facilities were given to the girls' physical education class this year. Construction of the facilities were started late last year, and continued through the summer. The facilities were finished in early October.

With the completion of the locker room, girls could be seen dressing and arming themselves with tennis rackets, hockey sticks, and baseball bats.

New to the staff this year and adding her abilities in teaching was Patricia Pierce.

Due to the uncompleted gymnasium the first half of the year, both boys' and girls' P.E. classes enjoyed co-ed swimming, as well as co-ed golf and archery.

Besides exercising the boys' P.E. classes took part in basketball, tennis, volleyball, baseball, and wrestling.

Band III Adds Sounds Of Tijuana Brass

Practice was the main objective of music students in order to reach their goal. By practicing not only at school, but after school they were able to compete in such things as Cal Band Day, half-time shows at football games, and spring and Christmas concerts during the year. In addition to the dance band, the sounds of the Tijuana Brass were added to Band III.

Band and singing were not the only courses offered in music; also contained in the curriculum were music appreciation, harmony and theory in which students learned background in musical history as well as to compose music. Aside from concerts and rehearsals the music department sponsored a candy sale and a dance in order to make money for new concert robes.

Using the theme, "Riding On a Carousel," inspired such decorations as multi-colored streamers, balloons and picturesque miniature horses for the Sophomore Hop on February 22, in the Student Center.

The carousel was constantly spinning as the Sophomores created an atmosphere of gaiety.

Tension mounted steadily as all awaited the announcement of the Sophomore Hop King and Queen. Last year's royalty, Debbie Pippo and Merle Knight, were there to crown this year's

King and Queen. The announcement finally came. . . Barbara Wheeler and Rick Fortner had won. Their court included: Cathy Cakebread, Cindy Maggiore, Debbie Graves, Diane Wristen, Tony Rosas, John Honneger, John Casey and Glen Stonebarger.

Sounds of a way-out band, Salt-Water Jello, entertained those who attended the colorful affair.

Helping the Sophomores with this major activity were class advisors Mrs. Carol Russell and Mr. Harold Child.

1968 Homecoming Is Almost Rained Out

Neither "rain," snow, sleet, or hail kept the Liberty Lions from the annual Homecoming activities this year even though fair weather did not prevail. October 28-November 1 was a week jammed-packed with Homecoming festivities. Pep Club sponsored many contests such as gum blowing, tricycle races and balloon blowing. Seniors received a trophy for most spirit.

During the Homecoming Rally, there was a "Miss Ugly Contest," judged by Lane Lewis in which Karin Massoni, Betty Thompson, Michele Mallet and Leticia Borrayo competed for the "honor?" Betty Thompson, nicknamed Constant Pleasure, was the winner. Then, the final moment arrived when Superintendent Wayne Boulding announced the 1968-69. Homecoming Queen as his daughter, Jane Boulding.

Following the announcement of the queen, was the parade through Brentwood, headed by the Grand Marshall, Mr. Harry Hobbs, a member of the Board of Trustees. Winners of the float competition, announced during halftime activities were Seniors first, Juniors and French Club tied for second and Sophomores third place. After the game which ended in a 40 to 2 victory over the Granada Matadors; the day was completed by the aftergame dance where the Mystics entertained. Among those there were the Queen and her court.

Jane Boulding, Homecoming Queen, and her court, Paulette Billingsley, Caroline Myers, Jeannet Giannini, and Linda Pinkson smile proudly after receiving their gifts from the Student Body. Jane received a dozen red roses, an autographed football and a gold football necklace while each attendant was given a silver football necklace.

Homage to royalty. . . Queen Jane Boulding receives from her Knight-in-armor (Chris Knight that is): one dozen red roses; and a congratulatory kiss which seals the bond.

Santa's Workshop Receives Vistors

Dim lights, the smell of evergreens and peppermint candy, and a red clad figure enhanced the scenery of the Christmas Capers dance.

December 13 marked the date of the Christmas Capers dance. Co-sponsored by the Future Homemakers of America and the Liberty Business Club, the dance featured the sounds of the Fortunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, Greg Baker and Linda Pinkston, arrived dressed for the occasion in red suits, fur and bells. Together they officiated Santa's workshop, where anyone could get married on a temporary basis.

Yuletide spirit seems to prevail as this year's Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, Linda Pinkston and Greg Baker, laugh it up before the Christmas tree.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus' at their Workshop are Mary Jo Armstrong, Stan Jones, Bryce Robison and Nyla Hannum.

Enjoying the slow music, Janice Butler and Dennis Reese dance under dim lights among friends.

Donna Parsons and Patty Pinkston are suddenly startled by the sounds of a familiar song.

Straw Plays Part In Farmers Dance

Yee haw! In the midst of wagons and hay stacks raising spirits prevailed at the Barn Dance. This dance typical of the Wild West of long ago, was sponsored by the Future Farmers of America on October 5.

While clutching to bails of hay, many Liberty girls were shached by their dates and thrown into the hay pile.

Highlighting the evening was the announcement of the F.F.A. Sweetheart, chosen by the members of the club. This year's Sweetheart, Kathy Freitas and her attendants Stephanie Baldwin, Paulette Billingsley, Barbara Monroe and Carolyn Myers were entertained by the music of the Sir Guys.

Carnival Creates Their 'Own Thing'

This year, instead of the usual Clash Day activities, "Aardvark Day" took place March 7. Students portrayed such characters as cowboys, little girls, gardeners, cowgirls, skiers, African hunters, and of course some Aardvarks.

That evening, the annual California Scholarship Federation carnival took place in the Boys' Gym. Zingy colors and flashy clothes were worn by all of the CSF members to add excitement to the festivities. Club members worked in such booths as: the fish booth, the cake walk, teddy bear toss.

Each hour there were raffles in which visitors of the carnival could win prizes.

This year's Aardvark Day and carnival were only a few of the activities in which Liberty students showed their school spirit.

Strawberry flavored sno-cones were quite a favorite treat judging by the eagerness of a little girl as Barbara Monroe hands her a sno-cone.

Stopping to talk and sell balloons to Tom Smith and his niece are carnival clown, Lane Lewis and junior clown, Sandy Scarfo.

For Kathy Kanagaki and Stephanie Baldwin, bouncing ping-pong balls and open mouths were quite a frequent scene at the live goldfish booth

Nixon Wins Over Humphrey

After the announcement from President Lyndon Johnson that he would not seek another term and the assassination of Robert Kennedy the presidential election of 1968 became a real horse-race.

Through the early summer months Richard Nixon, Eugene McCarthy, Hubert Humphrey and George Wallace tested their strength in primaries across the country.

Meeting in Miami, Florida, the Republicans chose Nixon as their candidate. Later in Chicago, the Democrats drafted Humphrey. Both were selected on first round balloting by the delegates.

Nixon, allied with vice-president hopeful Spiro Agnew, opposed both Humphrey, with running mate Edmund Muskie, and George Wallace, whose choice was Curtis LeMay.

On November 5, voters cast their ballots as Humphrey made a last-minute surge. With a close popular vote Nixon polled a victory over Humphrey and Wallace to become the 37th President of the United States.

Following his victory Nixon's daughter, Julie, was married to David Eisenhower, grandson of General Dwight Eisenhower.

In January, the Nixons and Agnews moved to Washington and took up residence for four years. Shortly after that President Nixon visited NATO allies in Europe hoping to bring about a better understanding between member nations.

Militants Demonstrate

During the Democratic convention in Chicago, demonstrations garnered almost as much news time as the convention itself.

When the order by Mayor John Daley went out for police to "shoot to kill" any arsonist caught in the act, world attention was focused anew on Chicago and its problems.

Repeated offenses by both police and militant demonstrators led to increased hostility and bloodshed.

S F State Closes As Students Picket

Students' protest against the San Francisco State Administration forced the closing of the college for a short time and gained national attention.

Demonstrations and picketing interrupted the normal operation of the college and forced Governor Ronald Reagan to adopt a "get-tough" policy.

Across the Bay, the students at the University of California at Berkeley started a wave of vandalism that, at times, was halted only because of bad weather.

All over the world students were fighting and picketing colleges and universities. In Tokyo they caused an estimated million dollars damage. While students in Mexico almost forced the Summer Olympics to be moved.

Crew Comes Home Turmoil Goes On

In January 1968 the USS Pueblo, commanded by Lloyd Bucher, was seized by the North Koreans and forced to surrender. Immediately the question was raised about the position of the ship at the time it was captured.

For 11 months, attempts by the government failed to secure the release of either the Pueblo or its crew. Then in a sudden diplomatic move the United States made a false apology for invading territorial waters and the crew was released including the body of the seaman killed in the capture.

But for Bucher the turmoil was not an end. He had barely landed in San Diego and greeted his wife, when a Naval Court of Inquiry was convened to "look-into" the conduct of Bucher and his crew before, during and after the capture.

Apollo Astronauts Set New Records

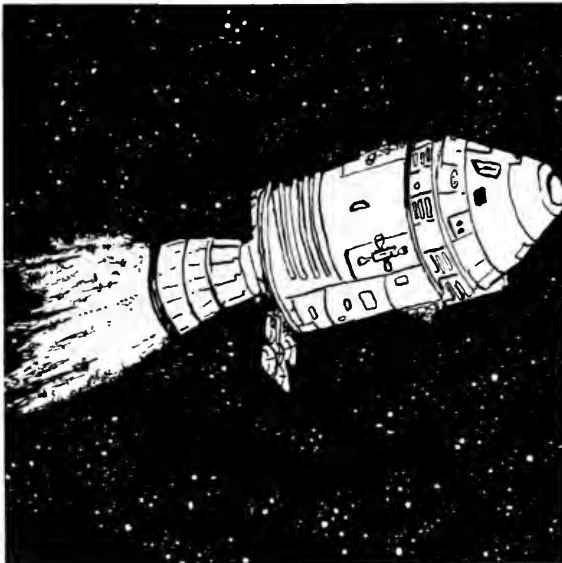

Three men journeyed farther than man has ever gone this last year traveling to the earth's lone satellite and back.

While most Americans spent a quiet Christmas at home, Apollo 8 circled the moon and provided earth-bound people with a glimpse of the rugged, desolate surface of the moon.

In a mission that was virtually picture-book perfect from start to finish, the Apollo 8 astronauts saw with their own eyes the view of the earth from 245,000 miles away and then relayed pictures of it back.

March 3 marked the beginning of the Apollo 9 mission and the testing of the lunar module.

Apollo 10 was scheduled to circle the moon and test further the lunar module. But it will be the Apollo 11 crew that will make the actual landing on the moon some time this summer.

Assassins' Bullets Kill Two In 1968

Two men, one black, the other white, both leaders in their own right; were felled by bullets from assassins' guns in 1968.

Robert Fitzgerald Kennedy, senator from New York and presidential candidate, and Martin Luther King Jr., Nobel Peace Prize winner and a leader of the negroes in America, were shot down during their struggle for what they believed.

King, who was to lead a "poor man's march" to Washington, was killed in Memphis; while Kennedy was gunned down in a Los Angeles hotel minutes after winning the California Primary in June.

James Earl Ray, the assassin of King was captured in London after a lengthy man-hunt by the FBI. After pleading guilty, he was sentenced to 99 years in jail by a Tennessee jury. Kennedy's convicted assassin, Sirhan Sirhan, was nabbed at the scene.

Weather And Hijacking Plague Country

A winter that California will long remember could best describe the weather of the past year. With a record snowfall in the Sierras and huge mud slides and heavy rains in the south, California was besided by Mother Nature.

Closer to home, a levee on the San Joaquin River collapsed because of high waters and Sherman Island became a second Sherman Lake. After plugging the levee gap, huge pumps started to dry out the 3000 acre island.

Major roads and super-highways were inundated by water, while highways through the Sierras were closed a record number of times by snow and high winds.

While many inland cities were plagued by water, the Santa Barbara area faced yet another problem, oil. A Union Oil Company well sprang a leak and washed over 30 miles of coastline with stinky crude oil killing thousands of birds and destroying marine life.

Water, mud, oil, and snow helped to make history this year in California.

Yankee Mickey Mantle Retires

From Bob Seagram in the pole vault to Debbie Meyers in swimming, U.S. athletes garnered a horde of gold, silver, and bronze medals in Summer Olympic Games competition.

On a more local scene, the New York Jets, American Football Champs, stunned the Baltimore Colts, National Football Champs, in the third annual Super Bowl.

While in baseball, the Detroit Tigers beat the Cincinnati Reds 4 games to 3 winning the World Series. Later a threatened boycott by players over a pension dispute was resolved and spring training started as usual. Missing from the scene was Yankee slugger, Mickey Mantle, who had announced his retirement.

Passengers on flights in the Eastern United States were unsure if they would arrive at their desired destination or Havana, Cuba. Increased hijacking of planes on the East Coast and their subsequent flight to Cuba became an almost too common event for airline pilots.

Maps and approach data of Havana's International Airport became part of the standard equipment for flights in the East.

Both the airlines and government were apparently helpless in stopping the hijackers.

As one passenger put it "It's long enough from New York to Miami without that infernal stop in Havana in between!"

Negotiations Start But War Continues

While soldiers fought and died on distant fields in Vietnam, peace negotiations dragged on in Paris, France.

After President Lyndon Johnson had called a halt to the bombing in the North, negotiations opened in Paris and some people hoped for an end to the war.

But each week, the Department of Defense posted the number of Americans, South Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed. Each week another 100 or so American soldiers were listed as casualties of a conflict that few Americans really understood.

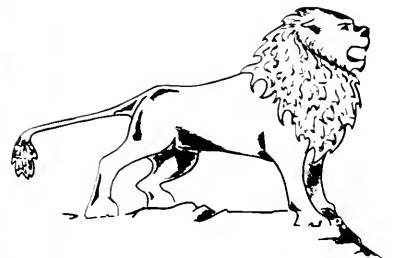

And at the conference table in Paris, one far-fetched demand after another stalled negotiations.

Americans had had to face a year of war in 1968 and seemed destined to wage yet another year of it in 1969.

Cover Carries Out Magazine's Theme

This year's Crystal Wall, Liberty's literary magazine, had its first year of mention in the '69' Lion. For its third year of publication, the magazine, which has a general content of thirty pages, sold well with its first edition in January.

The magazine, that is the only school publication completely written, typed, printed, and sold by the students, is advised by Mr. Richard Hackett and Mr. Oliver Bascom, both English teachers.

The Crystal Wall, which was originally named the Crystal Wall or Things to Hide from Graying Mothers, began with its first publication in 1967. The covers of the past and of this year were not able to hold the length of the magazines extensive title which was later shortened to "The Crystal Wall".

Applying last minute touches, and proofing for those tiny mistakes in their first edition of the Crystal Wall, or Things to Hide from Graying Mothers, are Cherryl Walker, Jean Sit, Robyn Lindsay, Claudia Smith, Skip Cardiff and Advisor Mr. Richard Hackett.

Student Councilmen Modernize By-Laws

Organization and better control of Student Body Funds with the welfare of the student body in mind, was the main goal of the student council this past year.

Plans were drawn up at the beginning of the year in an attempt to reorganize the council membership so that there would be a more accurate representation of the Associated Student Body. Another job of the council was to devise a means by which they could increase the money for student body funds without increasing the price of student cards.

A continual job of the council was to keep student government up to date, and to revise any by-laws, or part of the student constitution that was not applicable to the present time.

Four Seniors Earn Life Membership

Students who have demonstrated excellent scholastic ability were eligible for membership in the California Scholastic Federation.

A highlight of the year's activities was the Honor Dinner, directed by Bryce Robison, (the dinner was for the top ten students of each class.)

The club sponsored the dance after the Albany game, with music by the Emotions. On March 7, the CSF held their Annual Carnival in the gym. During the fall semester the club had a field trip to San Francisco and viewed a stage play, Shakespeare's "Hamlet".

Officers this year were: President, Judy Scarfo; Vice President, Shelley White; Treasurer, Nyla Hannum; Secretaries, Janet Cadabona and Bilinda Morrison. Advisors were Mr. Dewel Morgan and Miss Ethel Van Tassel.

Displaying bright colors and costumes, and showing their wildest dream are Liberty students Leslie Azevedo, Debbie Bess, Linda Pinkston, and Susan Bronzan as they make eyes water and skin crawl on CSF's Aarvardk Day, March 7: the day when "everyone" does their own thing."

Latin Club Travels For Annual Confab

Latin Club started off their year with some changes; becoming more "informal" and open to all students who had an interest in the ancient cultures of Greece and Rome.

Meetings were used for the study and discussion of the Greek and Roman periods and their contributions to our society. This same subject material was used for the joint meeting with Stockton clubs.

Highlighting the year was the trip to Fresno where club members attended the annual Junior Classical League Convention, March 21-22.

Because of the informality of the club this year, no officers were elected to head it. Miss Ethel Van Tassel acted as the club's advisor.

Clyde Fairley, Cynthia Young and Linda Vaissade work to put the finishing touches on this year's French Club float. The float tied for second place with the Junior Class in the parade competition during Homecoming activities on November 1.

French Club Sees 'The Two Of Us'

"To promote the feeling of French culture and to help international understanding, were the goals of this year's French Club," commented president Clyde Fairley.

In keeping with their goals, the club tied for second place with the Junior Class in the Homecoming Parade competition, sponsored a booth at American Field Service's International Christmas and saw a showing of the French film, "The Two of Us" at Berkeley during the months of November and December.

Club members finished the year by jointly hosting a Madri Gras Dance April 18 with the Spanish Club members in honor of the Brazilian language which is spoken by both France and Spain.

Spanish Club Hosts Mardi Gras Dance

Highlighting a year of busy activities for the Spanish Club was their co-sponsorship of a Mardi Gras dance on April 18 with the French Club. The dance, carrying out an age-old tradition, was held in the Activity Center.

During December the club sponsored a booth at the American Field Service's International Christmas, and helped to make the annual pinata.

Under the direction of club president Cathy Machado, the club saved their pennies for the annual field trip. The field trip was just part of their attempt to better understand the customs, language and dress of the Spanish-speaking people.

Meeting before school started in the morning, Mr. James Alves advised the officers and helped them to plan their year-end swimming party for all club members and their guests.

With a high percentage of Spanish-speaking students at Liberty the club proved to be a good place to express ideas and show others that individual characteristics differ from group to group but that all can be friends.

This dance helped the two clubs raise money for other events sponsored during the school year.

Spanish Club Officers Ray Cruz, Manuel Andrade, Cathy Machado, Susan Clark and Ann Nakao sit at a table in the cafeteria planning the business and activities of their large club.

Part of their many activities include an annual field trip, to learn about Spanish culture; a Madri Gras dance, co-sponsored with the French Club; and a picnic at the year's end.

Yearbook Society Has New Advisor

Guiding the Yearbook Society through its yearly activities were president Rhonda Salvador, secretary-treasurer Judy Scarfo, and advisor Mr. Bill Batze, new to the club this year.

Since it was large enough to host its after game dance without help, for the first time Yearbook Society consisted only of Annual Staff members.

One event sponsored by the organization was a basketball dance following the Granada game on January 31, featuring Mr. 5x5. Later in the year, after the completion of the annual, the Yearbook Society hosted a party to which members could invite friends and enjoy free food, swimming and dancing.

Combining their individual talents, Carol Moore and Leticia Borraro work to complete the layout for Homecoming.

Co-operation is one of the key factors as Bob Dyer and Cynthia Pederson find out working on Annual Staff.

Liberty Bell Staff Attend Conference

Producing the monthly school paper, the Liberty Bell, and improving students views towards Liberty were the primary objectives of the journalism class.

Taught by Mr. William Batze, the class attended the annual journalism-publications conference at Cal State where they heard speakers discuss many aspects of journalism.

Antioch Ledger was another place the journalism class visited. They learned about off-set printing and toured the plant.

Each year the Antioch Ledger in cooperation with the American Newspaper Guild presents a "Most Valuable Staffer Award" to the journalism student who contributed the most to class.

This year for the first time, a three-week course in photography was taught.

First semester's sports editors, Chet Wright and Barry DeMartini, dummy their page for the February issue of the Liberty Bell.

Playmakers Do 'David And Lisa'

Playmakers spent many long hours rehearsing and perfecting the performance which they presented as their annual play in May. They chose to portray the well known movie, "David and Lisa".

In addition to their main attraction the club presented several short plays at the following community activities; Byron Mothers' Club Meeting, selections from 'Spoon River Anthology' which were put on for Liberty's English classes and a short nonsensical feature for the parents at Back-to-School night.

With the guidance of advisor Mr. Robert Russell and club officers, Cathy Machado, President; Karin Massoni, Vice President; Mary Jo Armstrong, secretary; Clyde Fairley, treasurer; Bill Vengley, representative; and Gary Trembly, sergeant-at-arms, the club held the concession sales and after game dance on January 17.

Homemakers Help Children In Need

Learning how to budget money was one of the many subjects discussed by the Liberty Union High Future Homemakers of America Club.

Members of the club, advised by Mr. Gayle Krumland, sponsored an after-game dance along with the Business Club, organized and served a complete dinner, helped with a toy project and went ice skating with the Business Club.

To understand the responsibilities that go along with a home, to learn to develop good family ties, and to impress upon members the importance of good behavior were the main goals of the FHA.

Homemakers also sponsored a toy drive for needy children.

Club Earns Money By Calendar Sales

Bringing students from various parts of the world was the goal of members of the American Field Service.

Cherryl Walker took part in the many activities connected with Liberty High this year. Cherryl, a South African, came over to learn and experience some of the excitements of the American youth.

AFS sponsored the third International Christmas where exchange students from local schools were invited. This gave students the opportunity to exchange cultural ideas of Christmas. Another activity was selling calenders. Members sold calenders which listed activities and birthdays of customers. Profits went to the adult chapter for the next exchange student.

They presented information on how to be prepared for a job, how to indulge in a successful interview, and how to work with the employer and fellow employees.

With the Future Homemakers of America, Business Club sponsored the Christmas Capers Dance, December 13. Greg Baker played the part of Santa Claus and Linda Pinkston was Mrs. Claus.

Farmers' Chapter Plays Donkey Ball

Brentwood chapter of Future Farmers of America started off the '68-'69 year with their annual summer meeting in July where they planned activities for the year.

Fairs played an important role during August as the FFA entered exhibits in the Alameda, Contra Costa, and San Joaquin County Fairs.

In September the local chapter sponsored a competitive tractor driving contest held on the Liberty campus for the first time.

Following the tractor event was their annual Barn Dance which provided couples attending with fun and relaxation and was held Oct. 5.

And late in the year, the FFA hosted their donkey basket ball game. Funds earned from charter sponsored activities helped send members to the Cow Palace, Davis Field Day and the State Judging at Cal Poly.

While competing in the first FFA sponsored tractor driving contest at Liberty, Mike Miguel displays his ability in maneuvering a hay-rake combination through one of the many courses designed to test his skill

During one of the half-time shows on Ohmstede Field, Drum Major Russell Friday stands to the side of the LUHS Marching Band and watches as they pass him in one of their many formations.

Band Booster Club Helps Raise Flags

To help raise money for the support of Band III the Band Boosters Club worked long hours in various activities.

Holding paper drives every two months kept club members busy collecting, tying and selling old papers. Parents and teachers, as well as students participated in the drives.

For eight common national holidays of the year club members made arrangements with merchants in Byron and Brentwood to help them display the flag. The merchants contributed by buying flags and paying for the assistance.

From these two activities the club was able to raise over $1,000 to help finance new uniforms and trips to Band Days.

This year the band traveled to Escalon to give a concert. Later in the year the band gave concerts at the local elementary schools.

Leading the band in the 1968 annual Homecoming Parade is band director Allan Jones. To his left are Stan Jones and Ken Clark, trombones, with Steve Knight on the French horn. Each year the Liberty band is a vital part of the parade and half-time show. As in the past, the band presented a light show on Ohmstede Field between halves of the Granada football game in addition to marching in the pregame parade.

Clef Club Vocalizes In Local Schools

Fowl Ball might sound like a baseball term, but it was just the catchy title of the November 22 dance sponsored by the Clef Club.

In an attempt to raise money for choir robes the Clef Club went to great lengths sponsoring a candy sale in the fall months and numerous basketball concessions at home games.

But the club members didn't spend all their time in monetary pursuits as they traveled to University of Pacific to hear their choir. As a community service they carolled at the local elementary schools in December.

Boys' Block 'L' Eyes Constitution

Cheers of victory and sadness of defeat were the emotions felt by members of Boys' Block 'L' during many of the meets and games this year.

It took many long hours of constant practice and buckets of sweat for a Liberty boy who was involved in varsity sports. Every boy who competed in sports had a chance to be a part of Boys' Block 'L'.

This year, Block 'L' revised their constitution and selected appropriate strips for the manager. President, Dennis Henderson; Vice President, Nello Ghilarducci; Secretary, Chris Knight, and Sargent-at-Arms, Harold Wheeler, made Block 'L' promising and rewarding.

Girls' Block 'L' Sponsors Picnic

Accumulated credits of Girls' Athletic Association grew into Liberty's Girls' Block "L". When they have earned the "L" they become a member of the Girls' Block "L".

In order to earn a letter they had to attend and participate in most of the GAA activities on Tuesday and Thursday. It was also necessary to attend various playdays held at Liberty or at competing schools. Service credits must also be earned. This was done by preparing refreshments for GAA activities and other Liberty Organizations.

This year the group was led by Nancy Duke, president; Cheryl Van Buren, vice-president; Pam Collins, secretary; and Denise Castello, treasurer. These girls helped the club sponsor a bake sale held at local supermarkets. Proceeds were used for their annual spring picnic for all Block "L" members.

Annual Swim Show Highlights Season

Sports days, turnabouts, swim shows and bowling were a few of the many activities that kept the girls belonging to GAA busy. To advise the girls in their various activities were Miss Pat Pearce, Miss Virginia Diehl, Mrs. Carol Russell and Mrs. Dorthey Ann Gromm.

Working hard in preparing for the May Swim Show the girls presented to the public, a water ballet. They worked together to compose an original routine.

Sports days were a regular activity for GAA members. The girls were able to gather all their skills in playing against different schools. While enjoying refreshments, provided by GAA members, the girls got acquainted with each other.

The most exciting event of the year was of course the GAA Turn-a-bout held March 21. GAA members planned and decorated for the dance in tune to their theme.

Pep Club Sponsors 'Ugly Girl Contest'

Spirit Week and the "Ugly Girl Contest" were just a few of the attempts put forth by Pep Club to promote school spirit.

For the first time at Liberty the Pep Club screened rally committee members before each rally and were responsible for the conduct of each in encouraging school spirit.

During the week preceding Homecoming, the club sponsored daily contests of skill, sold pom-poms and buttons and hosted an "Ugly Girl Contest".

Rooter bus trips were organized and partially financed by the club to encourage students to travel to away football and basketball games and cheer the Lion teams to victory.

Demonstrating spirit are Nello Ghilarducci, and Dennis Henderson as they purchase a pom pom from Pep Club president Lane Lewis. The organization sponsored a spirit week prior to Homecoming during which they sold school buttons, pencils, and pom poms.

Featuring the winner of the "Miss Ugly Girl Contest," Betty Thompson, is Pep Club's entry in the Homecoming Parade. Escorting the reigning Miss Thompson are club members Georgie Massoni, Beverly Pierce, and Linda Hampton.

August came and along with it came practice for Liberty's Lions. Guided by head coach Jack Ferrill and assistant coaches Jerry Miller and George Smylie, Liberty came on strong in league standings with a 4-1-0 record to place second only to Amador, and a 6-3-0 overall season record.

After winning its league opener with Albany by a score of 35-0, Liberty suffered its only defeat in league play when Amador scored in the final minutes of the game to win 7-0. The Lions came back to beat Livermore 14-7 and followed that victory with a homecoming victory over Granada 40-2. They finished off the season with a 13-0 victory over John Swett to clinch their second place in the league.

JV's Finish Third With 4-5-0 Record

Liberty's junior varsity squad, coached by Bob Glenn and Larry Welch, finished the season with a 3-2-0 league record, to place third in league standings, and a 4-5-0 overall season record.

After losing two in a row to Antioch and Irvington the j.v.'s won against East Union 19-0, but lost to Lincoln the following week.

Difficulties still plagued the Cubs as they barely lost the next game to Dublin 14-12 and suffered a 13-0 defeat by Amador.

Getting back into style the Lion Cubs delivered defeat to Livermore by a score of 6-0. Continuing their winning streak, the j.v.'s dumped Granada's Matadors 31-0; and topped off the season with a 38-0 win over John Swett.

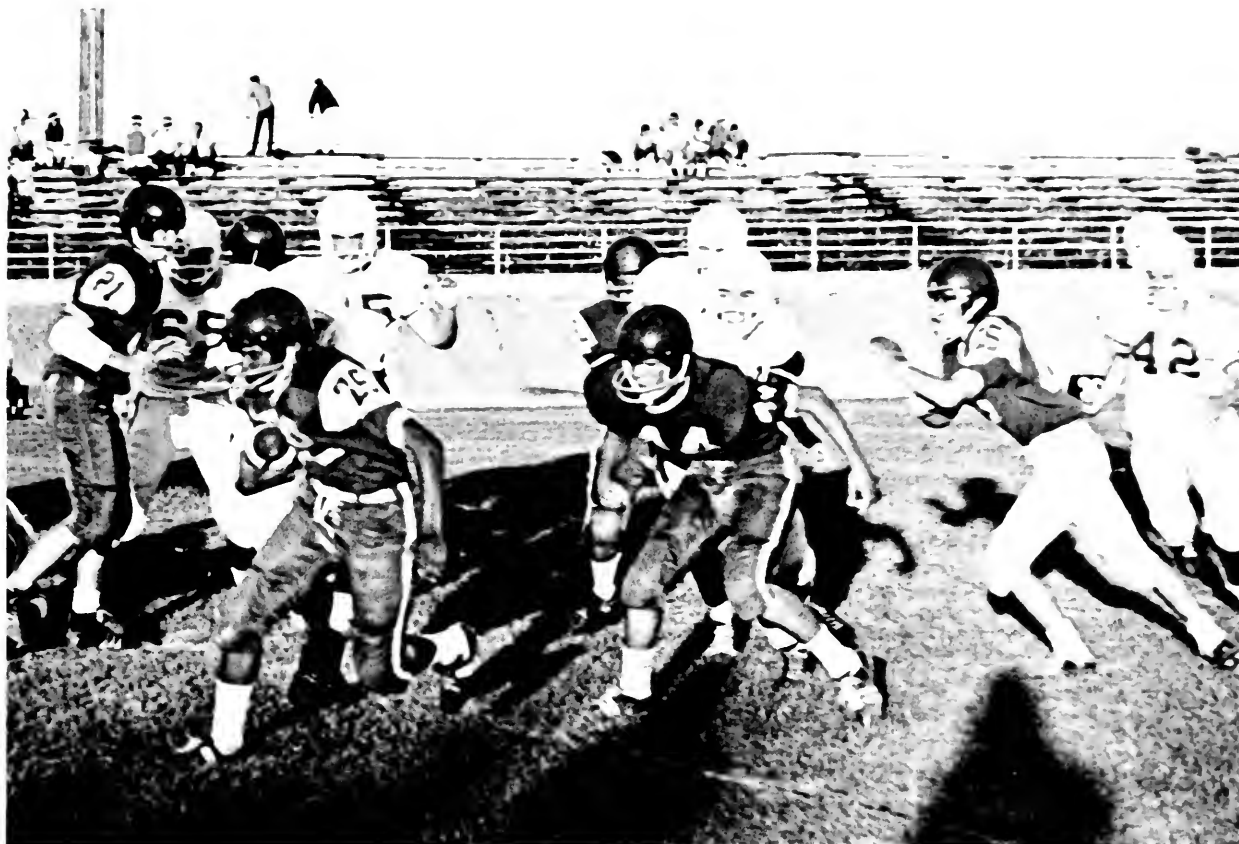

Playing his first game of the season, Lion Cub sophomore quarterback number 11 Richard Odom's attempt to gain yardage is stopped by his Panther Cub opponent in the September 13 match with Antioch.

Sophomores Lead, Show Improvement

Tennis in its fourth year at Liberty has shown much improvement. This year's netmen, consisting mostly of sophomores, concentrated on playing the net more, getting the first serve in, and most important of all, stroking the ball properly.

Under the guidance of Coach Dale Cozby and leadership of Delmar Greenleaf, who for the second year in a row received the honor of being captain, the '68 tennis team finished the league season with a record of four wins, six losses, placing fourth in the East Bay Athletic League.

Spirit-makers Work For Lion Victories

For the first time at Liberty boosters were screened before each rally. This was done by a committee under the direction of Bill Vengley, for the purpose of keeping rallies from getting dull and the same.

Under the direction of Mrs. Pat Claywell the girls practice diligently each week on cheers and routines which urged the teams to victory.

To train themselves for the year ahead, both cheerleaders and songleaders went to summer camps. Through these camps, the leader learned fresh ideas for a renewal of Liberty's spirit.

Flushed with excitement and joy, cheerleader Carolyn Myers sparks the audience into joining in a Lion spirit chant.

“You’re free as the roaring tide,
So there’s no need to hide.”

This year's Freshmen Class totaled 278. On September 6, they took their first steps through the corridors of Liberty High. Throughout the year the freshmen experienced the excitement of being in high school

With the guidance of Mrs. Sue Fortner and Mr. Jerry Miller, class advisers, the class undertook various projects and activities, including a concession at the first home football game, against Irvington on October 20, 1968.

A major project for first-year students was their homecoming float. With much enthusiasm and hard work this years freshmen entered their float, "Stop 'Em."

"Tromp Em" was the theme of the Sophomore Class third place float in this year's Homecoming Parade.

Sophomores Win Place Float Third

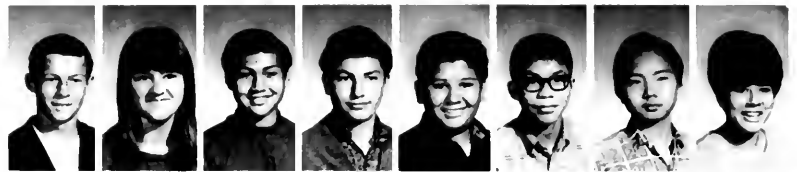

With "Tromp Em" as their theme the Sophomore Class showed their spirit as their float placed third in the Homecoming Parade. They spent long hard hours working together as a class and learning the meaning of team work.

With the help of their class advisers, Mr. Harold Child and Mrs. Carol Russell, the sophomores were busily engaged in sponsoring after-game dances and concession stands sales at football and basketball games.

Tenth graders made Liberty proud of them by taking part in scholastic, governmental, and athletic competition throughout their second year. Sophomores were a spirited group winning the spirit jug if the Seniors didn't.

Willing Officers Guide Jolly Juniors

With a slam of a locker, and an air of confidence the class of '70' moved through another year at Liberty.

"Kick-off for Liberty" was the theme of the Junior Class float. In the Homecoming Parade, Juniors proudly accepted the second place their float won.

Advising the Juniors throughout the year were Mr. Kenneth Forlow and Mrs. Barbara Glenn. Among the many activities they participated in was the Homecoming dance and concession stands.

Highlight of the Junior's third year at Liberty was their Prom. Held on March 15, 1969, couples wearing their long formals and dark suits danced to the sounds of a popular local band.

Roger Austin and Steve Caldwell show their Lion spirit as they put the finishing touches on the first-place winning senior float.

“Stay Free And Life Is Worth Living”

Finishing four years at Liberty, Seniors walked down familiar halls a final time. Activities started early with the class hosting the first after game football dance Sept. 20 and a concession sale at the Amador game.

In reward for four years of work, they attended their Senior Ball in April at the Hotel Claremont and had a breakfast and picnic in June. Capping their high school years was graduation June 13 on Ohmstede Field.

Students of the month for 1968-69- Top Row: Mary Jo Armstrong, September; Stan Jones, February; Carol Jensen, November. Bottom Row:

Jeanette Novarina, December; Mike Chan, March; Jane Boulding, January. The students are selected from faculty nominations.

Rotary Club Honors Students Monthly

Each month a student was selected as "Student of the Month". Selections were based on citizenship, leadership, scholarship and being an all-around good student. Teachers sent names of possible candidates to Principal Lou Bronzan who then made the final selection.

The "Student of the Month" award was sponsored by the Brentwood Rotary Club. Honorees were invited to a club luncheon where they were introduced and a resumee about them read. In this way, the club tried to make the community aware of the outstanding students of Liberty.

‘Thank You’ To Those Who Support Staff

When the going gets rough it's always good to know that there are other people standing behind you. It is for this reason that I would like to express a very sincere thank you to those people who backed the production of the 1969 LION.

Administration and faculty for being so understanding and cooperative in granting those last minute requests;

American Yearbook Company for the printing of the 1969 LION yearbook;

Mr. Jim Crosland for his in-the-plant assistance with the production of the book;

Mr. Hal Matson for many of the excellent photographs in the book and without whose help it would have been almost impossible to put out an effective book;

Mr. William R. Stephenson for his help with the organization of this yearbook;

Mr. William C. Batze, adviser, to whom we owe a special “thanks”. Being new as a yearbook adviser, he faced a situation in which he had to learn as well as to teach. So he had to work harder than anyone else;

1969 LION staff for their diligence and dedication throughout the year. One person can not put out a book, but with a cooperative staff it becomes an easy task;

There it is, the most sincere “thank you” possible to those special supporting people.

'68 LION Earns Two Additional Honors

Once again the 1968 LION won "All-American", title from the National Scholastic Press Association and "Medalist" award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. In addition to these two, for the first time in Liberty's history the 1968 LION received an A+ rating (highest possible) from the National Scholastic Yearbook Association and a first place in yearbook excellence at the journalism conference at California State College at Hayward.

Several major changes were made in the 1969 LION. The first major change was a new adviser, Mr. Bill Batze. Something new in the way of a theme was tried by the 1969 LION staff.

They took the song, BORN FREE, and used the words to it as their theme. Additional pages were added to the sports section to try and equalize the coverage on varsity sports. By selling more ad pages, the 1969 LION staff was able to add another page of color to the book. Another new idea which the staff tried was to design their own cover which would specifically match the theme and to have a die cut with that design.

In addition, for the first time, the Senior Ball was included in the annual. As a whole, the 196 pages were used to better tell the story of the 1968-1969 school year.

“Born Free”

“BORN FREE” by John Barry and Don Black

“Born free, and free as the wind blows,
As free as the grass grows,
Born free to follow your heart

Stay free and beauty surrounds you,
The world will astound you
Each time you look for your star

Stay free where no walls divide you,
You’re free as the roaring tide,
So there’s no need to hide

Born free and life is worth living,
But only worth living,
‘Cause you’re born free.

Stay free where no walls divide you,
You’re free as the roaring tide,
So there’s no need to hide.

Born free, and life is worth living,
But only worth living,
‘Cause you’re born free.”
